Part B. CV SUMMARY

I am Professor and Chair of the investigation group GIDE: Grupo de Investigación en Dirección de Empresas (<http://gide.unileon.es/index.php>) at the University of León, recognized by the Government of Castille and León (Spain) as Research Group of Excellence since 2010 (GR280 Group). I have previously taught at the Complutense University and the Polytechnic University of Madrid. My teaching covers subjects of Strategic Management, Competitive Strategy and Innovation Management. My research activity focuses on the Innovation Management, Entrepreneurship and CSR. I have published more than seventy research articles in academic journals in these fields such as Research Policy, Technovation, Technological Forecasting & Social Change, Corporate Social Responsibility and Environmental Management, Journal of Business Research, Creativity Research Journal, European Journal of Innovation Management, International Journal of Technology Management, among others. I have supervised sixteen PhD at the Complutense University of Madrid and at the University of León, fourteen of which were carried out by university professors (1 CU, 6 TU, 2 CEU, 2 PTEU, 2 CD, 1AYD) that are currently working in different universities (Barcelona, Granada, León and Polytechnic of Madrid). At present, I am the director of the GEM Project (Global Entrepreneurship Monitor) in Castille and León. I have been President of ACEDE (Scientific Association of Economics and Business Management) from September 2010 to September 2012, a professional association that brings together over 900 Spanish university professors from the areas of Business Economics. I have held the position of director of the Department of Management and Business Economics at the University of León between 2004 and 2015. I chaired between 2011 and 2014 the Committee of Social and Legal Sciences in the Program for the Evaluation of Teachers for hiring (PEP) in the ANECA (National Agency for the Valuation of Quality and Accreditation).
